The Manamater Store. A Field Day in Foulards

TWENTY-FIVE thousand yards of the handsomest kinds of Foulard silks parade themselves in the Rotunda this morning, and chant the "Morituri" of those whose end is inevitable immediate. Rich, handsome, attractive, desirable silks, in the colors and combinations that you snatch at; in patterns that are fresh and pretty and serviceable, and at prices mutilated beyond recognition, they salute you, being about to be slaughtered.

Twenty-five thousand yards. Not a handful,—not a lot of odds and ends, nor a lot of off-colors and ugly, unsalable patterns. A full line of particularly good silks, with plenty of the blues-and-white and black-and-white you like, -- cheap beyond experience.

At 30c. yd., 50c. kind-Pretty printed Foulards in black, bronze, red, brown, light blue, navy blue, green, gray, lavender, cardinal; all with white sprays, dots and twigs; also black ground with pink, cerise, yellow, heliotrope and cardinal figures.

At 35c. yd., 50c. kind-New blues, new lavenders, new browns; all with white and colored printings; also black and white and black with colors in serpentine patterns; effective and novel.

At 35c. yd., 50c. kind-A lot of rich black Foulards, jeweled with dots of color; red, blue, heliotrope and white; also a lot with hair-line dashes of color on blue, cardinal, green and black.

At 40c. yd., 65c. kind-Rich twilled Foulards in all the new colors, printed with tiny diamond-dashes of black with white eccentric figures; an abundance in navy and white.

At 45c. yd., 65c. kind-A batch of beautiful colors, prettily printed in all the new blues, new browns, new greens, new reds.

At 50c. yd., 75c. kind-Rich twilled Foulards, in particularly handsome patterns; true blues with white dots, figures and sticks, quaintly placed. At 55c. yd., 75c. kind-Two patterns in many new colors, with tiny rings of white and broken bits of color; branches of color and white across fields of contrasting shades; wholly new.

The feature about it that claims strongest attention is that of reliability. It will heep time and keep on keeping time as long as it is wound up, and despite all conditions of heat and cold and position. It's a life-time watch, and costs $50. Certificate of accuracy from the Geneva Observatory accompanies each.

We told you the other day of our quarter-hour repeating watch, and the omission of a line made us say that we guaranteed it for twenty years. A Most Extraordinary Sale of Women's Muslin and Undergarments.

Tens of thousands of dainty undermuslins, the stock of a prominent manufacturer, bought at just about half price, to go on sale to-day—the same way. mmmmm

The manufacturer is Henry Lewis of 68 to 70 Wooster Street, and if you do not-competing stores will understand, that that means unquestioned underwear excellence. The whys and wherefores you're really not interested in, but you will be interested, and very much so, in the prices we quote for to-day's sale as a befitting climax of our Great May Sale. Here are the prices—some of them only—for it would take a page to quote them all. Compare them, examine the goods and you'll find that these values are not only not equalled, but not even approached elsewhere in New York.

All About "Mearshell."

"Nearshell" is worth investigating.
If you are a shell expert, you will be able to tell it from the real article; BLACK, IMPROVED SOUTH AMERICAN SOFT CLEAN HAIR, made up in mattresses to fit any regular size bed; otherwise not. It has all of real shell's beauty, and something that real shell has not—durability. The prices are choice of fancy or A. C.
